In renovating the interiorscape of this office building, which consists of two 12-story towers, the contractor used plants with different textures in a variety of contemporary containers for a more modern look.

Both lobbies feature groupings of three European Tall Curve containers in burnished bronze, showcasing either seasonal color or butterball Rhapsis palms.

Two John Follis Peanut Planters in vanilla gloss feature distinctively linear Dracaena marginata bicolor with a topdressing of broken recycled glass in crystal amber.
